PRICE FIVE CENTS

3 TREATED, 6 ARRESTED AFTER FIGHT

Three men were treated for injuries and six were charged with disorderly conduct as a result of a fight on S. Washington St. Saturday evening at 5 o'clock.

Borough police said Marcellus Edwards Jr., 260 S. Washington St., was treated at the Warner Hospital for a stab wound under the left arm while Enrique Ortiz Sostre, Gettysburg R. 1, and his brother, Antonio Sostre Ortiz, 135 Breckenridge St., were treated at the Hospital for lacerations of the hands and arms.

Police said the altercation started between Ortiz Sostre and Marcellus Edwards Jr. "over Ortiz Sostre's wife," in the home of one of the men involved, Lawrence E. Smith Jr., on S. Washington St.

JAIL "CROWDED"

The battle soon "erupted" into the street, according to the police report, with the "other men getting into it." Police said the participants were "using porch railings and fists."

After police arrived, the fight ceased and everyone moved to the office of Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

There the following paid $19 each, fine and costs, on charges of disorderly conduct: Enrique Ortiz Sostre; Antonio Sostre Ortiz; Ronald E. Doakes, 260 S. Washington St.; Donald H. Doakes, 260 S. Washington St.; Gregory L. Williams, 257 S. Washington St.; Lawrence E. Smith Jr., 262 S. Washington St.

According to the police, investigation into the incident is being continued and there will probably be some charges laid in connection with the "knifing." In addition a juvenile charge will be laid.

Justice Snyder said that several of the men had unusually "good luck." When they were unable to pay immediately, the justice sought to put them in jail, but the sheriff pleaded his jail was crowded and asked if the justice would wait a little longer for the men to "raise the money."

CHOKES TO DEATH SUNDAY IN NEW OXFORD

Mrs. Bernadetta M. (Kuhn) Hockensmith, 63, 207 W. High St., New Oxford, died at 3:10 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the New Oxford fire hall where she had been attending a gathering during the afternoon and choked on food particles.

An emergency tracheotomy was performed by Dr. Albert L. Grasmick, New Oxford, but death occurred within 15 minutes. Oxygen-giving equipment of the fire company also was used in vain. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, was called and made an investigation.

She was born in New Oxford and was a daughter of the late William F. Kuhn and Clara A. (Weaver) Kuhn, New Oxford. She was a member of the St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church of New Oxford and the Rosary Society.

SERVICES TUESDAY

Surviving are her husband, Allen J. Hockensmith, Boiling Springs; her mother, three children, Richard J., New Oxford; Mrs. Mary Ann Brady, McSherrystown, and Mrs. Harry E. Merrel, New Oxford R. 1. There are seven grandchildren and eight brothers and sisters: Mrs. Howard Dishon, Lancaster; Mrs. James A. Robinson, New Oxford; Edward H., New Oxford R. 1; Mrs. Mary A. Robinson, New Oxford; Mrs. Charles Carbaugh, New Oxford R. 1; Paul L. Kuhn, New Oxford; George S., New Oxford; Mrs. Bertha C. Smith, New Oxford.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning, meeting at the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home at New Oxford at 8:30 o'clock, followed by a Requiem Mass at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Fr. Alexius Arnoldin, her pastor, celebrant. Interment will be made in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the funeral home after 7 o'clock and prayers will be recited there at 8 o'clock by Fr. Arnoldin.

Stocking-footed Driver Is Nabbed

Gary Lee Geiselman, 24, Abbotstown, was placed in the county jail Sunday morning at 2 o'clock on a charge of turning out lights to avoid identification brought against him by state police.

The complaint was laid before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Gettysburg R. D., who said State Troopers James J. Hydock and Stanley J. Jezewski told him they were patrolling in East Berlin when they saw a "suspicious" car ahead and started in pursuit.

According to the justice, the driver of the car turned out the lights of his vehicle and led the officers on a chase through alleys and streets of East Berlin borough. Eventually the car stopped and the driver started to flee on foot but was finally captured by the two state policemen.

The justice said Geiselman was in his shirt sleeves and stocking feet when brought before him early Sunday morning. Geiselman was placed in jail in default of $500 bail for an appearance before the justice today.

$200 OFFERED IN CHRISTMAS HOME CONTEST

A total of $200 in prizes will be offered in the annual Christmas home lighting contest here this season, it was announced today by Robert McCoy, chairman of the home lighting committee of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the contest.

Homes within the borough as well as within a two-mile radius are eligible for the contest.

An entry blank is published elsewhere in today's edition of The Gettysburg Times and must be returned no later than Wednesday, December 23, for participation. Another entry blank will appear in the December 9 edition.

The entry blanks are to be mailed to the Civic Affairs Committee, Chamber of Commerce, Plaza Building, Gettysburg.

Judging will be made on artistic merit, originality, lighting techniques and ingenuity.

The judging will take place Tuesday, December 29. Judges will be Walter Lane, Ernest Krape and Sterling Musselman.

First prize in the contest is $50, second prize $40, third $30, fourth $20 and fifth $15. There will be nine $5 awards for sixth place.

The Rev. Alfred Gotwalt, pastor of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church, will be the speaker for the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions this evening at 6 o'clock at the Varsity Diner.

World Relives Tragedy Of Kennedy Assassination In Solemn Ceremonies

By AUSTIN SCOTT
NEW YORK (AP)—A cluster of white rosebuds and jasmine lay among hundreds of other floral offerings on a grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

A somber President and Mrs. Johnson, both dressed in black, attended a special memorial service in Austin, Tex.

Air Force planes flew over Cape Cod in the missing buddy formation — one position vacant.

In these and many other ways a thoughtful nation paused Sunday to remember, and pay tribute, on the first anniversary of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

The tragedy that had reached around the world in solemn ceremonies, as hundreds of thousands paid aside part of their day for their own private ways of remembering.

SPRAY OF WILD FLOWERS

Mrs. John F. Kennedy sent a small spray of wildflowers to the grave. They were delivered by her mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss.

The President's widow remained in seclusion with her two children, Caroline and John Jr., at their weekend Long Island residence.

MISS M'CANS, D. W. CRAIG ARE WED ON SUNDAY

Miss Carolyn Louise McCans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. McCans, Gettysburg R. 2, was married Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to Douglas Warren Craig, son of John G. Craig, West Lawn, Pa., and Mrs. Vivian Morris, Daytona Beach, Fla. in St. James Lutheran Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John S. Bishop and Rev. Gebhart Klaassen, Fairfield Mennonite Church, before an altar decorated with palms, gladioli and white carnations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of white satin brocade. The bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline featuring seed pearls, and the full skirt fell into a chapel train. Her silk illusion veil was attached to a crown of pearl blossoms, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with a whole orchid center.

IN WEDDING PARTY

Mrs. Mark Shockey, Waynesboro, was matron of honor and wore a full-length sea green gown with scoop neckline and Empire waistline. She wore a matching headpiece with a circular tulle veil and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white rosebuds. The bridal attendants, whose gowns were identical to

OLD SILVER COMMUNION SET RETURNS

A silver communion set, purchased by Zion Lutheran Church in 1891 but unused by the church for at least 40 years, returned to the church and was rededicated Sunday during special services marking the 110th anniversary of the church.

Parts of the sets, which had turned up at public sales and in an antique shop in recent years, were presented to the congregation Sunday.

The silver flagon, recognized in a local antique shop, was bought by Earl McGlaughlin and presented to the church which had formerly used it. The ciborium and chalice were given to the church in memory of S. L. Allison by Mrs. Allison and her children. They were purchased at a public sale. The pastor, the Rev. Otto Kroeger, said he does not believe.

DANCE GROUP WILL PERFORM HERE TUESDAY

The appearance of the First Chamber Dance Quartet Tuesday evening in the Gettysburg High School in the second of four concerts of the Community Concert Association of Adams County promises a "revolutionary departure" from the typical classic ballet.

The four dancers have chosen seven numbers to demonstrate their versatility as artists of imagination. The first, a collection of three dances, will be presented to the Harp Concerto in C Major, which Francois Adrien Boieldieu composed for Marie Taglioni, leading 18th century ballerina. The second number will introduce the four dancers individually in "Impresiones Intimas."

Other features of the program will include interpretations of five songs from Robert Schumann from the "Dichterliebe."

The name "Chamber Dance" was selected by the quartet as best describing the closely integrated and intimate nature of the group, which includes Charles Bennett, Lois Bewley, Bill Carter and Janice Groman.

The "First Chamber Dance Quartet" will appear in the school auditorium because of the need for a large stage. The two remaining concerts of the current season will be presented in Christ Chapel, Gettysburg College.

MRS. NEELY DIES AT 88

Mrs. Bess Louise Neely, 84, widow of J. Harvey Neely, former editor of the York Springs Comet, died this morning at 5:30 p.m. of a heart attack at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Martha Stover, 405 Oak Terrace, West Reading. Her husband died about 22 years ago.

Mrs. Neely lived in York Springs during the summer months after her husband's death and spent the winters with her daughters, Mrs. Stover and Mrs. Dorothy Kuhn, Harrisburg.

In addition to her two daughters, she is survived by a stepson, Austin Neely, Philadelphia; a brother, Charles Lott, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Scott, Gettysburg. There are two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

She was born at Mummaburg, the daughter of William and Hannah Wiernier Lott. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Pittenuff Funeral Home, York Springs. Rev. Ray E. Jones officiating. Burial will be made in Sunnyside Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The Adams County Republican Club will hold a meeting at the Fairfield fire hall Tuesday, November 24, at 8 p.m. Notes: Speakers: Entertainment for all and free lunch. Public invited.

Fisher's Candy Shop, 28 Chambersburg St., will be open Wednesday until 9 p.m.

Cold Sets New Records Here

The coldest November 22 and 23 in 61 years—that was the weatherman's word for Sunday and today.

It may have been the coldest November 22 and 23 ever in these parts, but the weatherman's records go back only 61 years and he's cautious about making claims for years for which he has no records.

The thermometer plunked to 18 degrees on Sunday morning. And that set a 61-year record. The prior November 22 low was 19 recorded here in 1905 and 1951.

And this morning the mercury dropped from the cold even farther, setting a chilly 16 as the low. And that also was the coldest for the date. In 1932 the thermometer got down to 19, but that was the coldest—up to today on any November 23.

MAN IS HELD FOR COURT IN HUNTING FUSS

Gerald F. Parsons, Gardner's R. 1, posted $500 to appear for court on an assault and battery charge following a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on a charge brought by Emerson S. McCoy, Gardner's R. 2, at which Parsons was found guilty of the charge.

The justice said the case dated from the first day of hunting season and was first brought in Cumberland County. Then it was found that the incident happened about 100 feet inside the Adams County line, and McCoy, after the charges were dismissed in Cumberland County, paid the costs there, and brought the case before Justice Snyder.

Testimony at the hearing showed that McCoy and others had entered a standing corn field from some woods, fired at a rabbit and missed. Another group of hunters had at the same time left the woods on the other side of the field and someone fired a shot into the corn field. A pellet from the shot struck McCoy on the face.

KICKED FALLEN MAN

McCoy, according to the testimony, made some comment to the person he believed fired the shot that he would "wrap my gun around your neck." Parsons, who was one of the group toward whom McCoy had gone, noted McCoy's beard and told him he would "turn his lip inside out and let him chew on his beard if he messed around him," according to the transcript.

McCoy claims Parsons struck him in the chest with the butt of his shotgun. McCoy then dropped his shotgun and took a swing at Parsons and, according to the testimony, missed.

Parsons then punched McCoy with the butt end of his gun again and McCoy fell. McCoy said that was the last thing he remembered. The men with him said Parsons then hit the fallen McCoy with the butt end of his gun the first time in self-defense when he saw McCoy rushing at him. He said he hit McCoy again with the butt end of the gun when McCoy struck at him—still in self-defense. He denied hitting the fallen McCoy with the shotgun, but did admit kicking the fallen men.

Justice Snyder said that up to the time McCoy fell it looked like "even stephen" to him between the two men, both of whom are short and slight, but said the kicking of McCoy after he was down constituted assault and battery.

Parsons, according to the justice, said that after he thought it over, he agreed.

MISS ENGELKE IS BRIDE HERE ON SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Joanne Doris Engelke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Linde Engelke, 189 Gordon Ave., Twin Oaks, to Armetstead Montgomery Fredlock III, son of Mrs. Elaine Sexton

MRS. FREDLOCK

Fredlock, Buckhannon, W. Va., was solemnized at the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Donald H. Treese, the pastor, performed the ceremony.

The altar was decorated with white pompons and white chrysanthemums and the church with palms and candelabra. Mrs. Robert Deardorff presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Richard Deener who sang "And This Is My Beloved," and "The Lord's Prayer." Glenn Hankey was the acolyte.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white silk taffeta trimmed with embroidered lace and seed pearls. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline and long sleeves coming to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train with a bow at the waist. Her pearl and crystal crown held a bouffant illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses with white pompons and ivy.

IN WEDDING PARTY

The matron of honor, Mrs. Roger Engelke, Lodi, N.J., wore a street-length gown of deep green velvet with a semibell-shaped skirt, wide scoop neck and long fitted sleeves. She carried a cascade of yellow pompons and yellow sweetheart roses. The bridal attendants were Mrs. George L.

50 Believed Dead As TWA Jet Airliner Blows Up On Takeoff Today At Rome

By JAMES M. LONG
ROME (AP)—A TWA four-jet airliner with 72 persons aboard burst apart in explosions today as it was about to leave Rome's Leonardo Da Vinci Airport at Fiumicino. About 50 persons were reported killed.

Trans World Airlines in New York said the plane hit a truck. Capt. J. E. Frankum, TWA vice president, said the jetliner at the time was trying to abort its takeoff.

"Unfortunately, there was a runway in the vicinity of the runway," he added.

25 MAY SURVIVE

Reports of the number of survivors brought to Rome hospitals varied from 20 to 25. Most were reported in grave condition.

The TWA office in Rome said the plane carried 55 passengers and a double crew of 17. Among the passengers were 26 TWA employees and their families.

It was TWA flight No. 800 from Kansas City, Mo.; Chicago, New York, Paris and Milan to Rome, Athens and Cairo.

There were conflicting reports on the time the explosion occurred.

While some persons said the blast occurred just as the plane

Mabel Schelling Dies On Sunday

Mabel T. (Myers) Schelling, 78, of Oak Ridge, Gettysburg R. 3, died Sunday morning at 5:15 at the Warner Hospital where she had been admitted as a patient Friday.

A native of Adams County, a daughter of the late Penrose and Jennie (Tate) Myers, she had operated a souvenir stand atop Oak Ridge near the observation tower for many years.

She was a member of Prince of Peace Episcopal Church here and was the last of her immediate family. Her only survivors are a number of cousins.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with the Rev. Fr. Robert A. Pearson officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 9 o'clock Wednesday morning until the time of service.

PLEA FOR NEW TRIAL REFUSED BY COURT HERE

The Adams County court Saturday handed down an opinion denying the request of J. Henry Smith, Hanover, for new trial on a charge of driving during a period of suspension.

During the October term of court a jury had found Smith guilty of the charge based upon an auto accident occurring February 23, 1964, on Elm Ave., in Midway, in which an automobile owned by J. Henry Smith ran into the rear of sedan operated by James Edward Hoke.

Hoke claimed the driver of the other car came to him and gave him his name as John Henry Smith and gave him his address, and also showed him an insurance card which carried his name and address, but showed him no other cards. Smith told Hoke, Hoke said, that there was no need to call police, because he might get a $100 fine, and that they could settle it themselves.

Later Hoke reported the incident to Conewago Twp. Police Chief Thomas Carbaugh, who brought the driving during suspension charge against Smith. In court, Smith denied driving, said he had lent the car to his brother. His brother, James Smith, testified in court that he was driving the car at the time of the accident, stating his cars were broken down and that he had borrowed J. Henry Smith's car for six or seven weeks. He said at the time of the accident he had not told Hoke his name or his brother's name but showed Hoke the owner's card and insurance card which would have borne J. Henry Smith's name.

MRS. VALENTINE DIES

Mrs. Ellen G. Valentine, wife of Sterling G. Valentine, 24 W. Middle St., died this morning from a lingering illness at the Brandywine Nursing Home, West Chester, where she had been a guest for the last four and a half years. Funeral arrangements, which are incomplete, are being made by the Wentz Funeral Home. Interment will be in Coatesville where the Valentines formerly lived.

Damage totaled $750 but no one was reported injured when two cars collided at Seminary Ridge on W. Middle St. at 12:30 Sunday morning.

Borough police said Ronald Pittman, 20, of Rozelle, N. J., and Gettysburg College, was headed east after visiting in Fairfield when his car sideswiped a west-bound auto operated by William Musser Jr., 50, 300 Fairview Ave., on W. Middle St., near the top of the ridge.

Damage was estimated at $450 to the Pittman car and $300 to Musser's vehicle. Police brought a charge of reckless driving against Pittman before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

DRIVER CHARGED

Morris Demerree Haines, Taneytown R. 1, has been charged before Justice of the Peace George Lambert, Cumberland Twp., by Cumberland Twp. Policeman Bernard V. Miller Sr. with reckless driving.

According to one version by witnesses, the plane actually was making its takeoff run, lifted a few feet off the runway, then dropped back, while the pilot tried desperately to brake it to a stop.

Some identified

One wing of the plane was reported to have struck a heavy roller at the edge of the strip, damaging the wing and causing fuel to pour out. According to this version the fuel ignited and the plane exploded 200 yards farther along.

First of the identified injured was Elisabeth Loretta Cartley, 39, of Santa Monica, Calif. She was taken to Rome's San Camillo Hospital suffering from various fractures.

FIVE INJURED IN 3 ACCIDENTS OVER WEEKEND

Five persons were injured in weekend accidents investigated by state police from the local substation.

Two Purcellville, Va., brothers were removed to the Carlisle Hospitals with injuries following an accident Saturday afternoon at 2:25 o'clock near York Springs. A Mechanicsburg man was removed to the Warner Hospital here following an accident a half mile east of here Saturday night and two men went to the Hanover Hospital following an accident Sunday evening on the East Berlin-Hampton Rd.

CAR ROLLS OVER

C. Elwood Uphold, 41, Mechanicsburg, was treated at the Warner Hospital Saturday evening at 6:15 o'clock for minor injuries following a one-car accident just east of here on the Hanover Rd. State police said Uphold told them he was driving east when a deer ran onto the road. In attempting to swerve to avoid the deer, he lost control and his car went off the side of the highway and rolled over.

PROGRAM FOR PITTSBURGH SYMPHONY

New information about the Pittsburgh Symphony concert at Gettysburg High School auditorium next Monday was announced today.

Haig Yaghjian, associate conductor, will present a varied program including two symphonic compositions of major composers. The program will open with the "Beatrice and Benedict" overture of Berlioz.

Next the orchestra will play the great Beethoven Symphony, No. 8 in F Major.

Following the intermission, the program will take a change of pace with the presentation of Igor Stravinsky's "Symphony in Three Movements."

19 ORGANIZATIONS HELP
The concluding number will be Wagner's "Tannhauser" overture.

Nineteen Gettysburg area organizations are participating in the concert campaign, with the entire receipts from ticket sales going to their community service projects.

The concert is sponsored by Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Inc.

Arrangements are in the hands of a committee including co-chairmen Donald Kemp of the New Oxford Lions and Mrs. P. N. Hewetson, Gettysburg Friends of the Library. Other committee members include Julian N. Estep, Henry S. Scharf, Paul L. Roy and Mrs. Myles S. Kleinfelter.

FIREMEN HAVE BUSY WEEKEND

Firemen were busy over the weekend.

This morning at 6 o'clock Gettysburg firemen were summoned when brake lining of a truck operated by Paul Jones, Fannettsburg, caught fire along the Lincoln Highway, near the Lincoln Logs. People at the scene threw water on the truck until firemen arrived.

Sunday night at 11:08 Greenmount firemen were summoned when an oil heater "exploded" at the home of John Riley. No report of damage was given and firemen returned within a half hour.

Sunday morning at 6:36 Fairfield firemen were summoned when a washhouse burned at the Elevated Orchards property on the Jack's Mountain Rd. They listed the damage at $2,000.

The home is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Riley Cool who manage the orchards and farm, owned by Dr. Walter H. Wishard, Waynesboro. The fire is believed to have started from a spark from a chimney. The Cools had butchered on Saturday in the washhouse.

Saturday evening at 9:47 Fairfield firemen were called to a car on fire on Route 116.

FINED AS DISORDERLY

Dale Kountz, E. Middle St., paid a fine and costs totaling $19 before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Saturday afternoon on a disorderly conduct charge brought by borough police. The offense occurred on Lincoln Square early on the morning of November 16 according to the police report.

WINDOWS BROKEN

Miss Ann Gilliland, 239 Carlisle St., reported to borough police Sunday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock that four small boys had broken 20 window panes in her garage.

Miss Frances Gilbert and Miss Jessie Crouse, R. 1, were included in the trip to Cherry Hill.

FUMES SICKEN 70 STUDENTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A heater spread smoke and coal gas fumes through the old Hart-ran school in north Philadelphia today, making some 70 students and teachers ill.

The building, which houses some 400 elementary level students, was quickly evacuated and more than a score of emergency vehicles were rushed to the scene. A check of three hospital admissions indicated that only one person, a student, might be held.

The fumes were first noticed about 9:30 a.m. While there was smoke in the three-story, 70-year old building, there was no fire.

At least 58 pupils and six teachers were known to have been affected. Some were given oxygen outside the building and others were taken to Temple, Episcopal or St. Luke's and Children's hospitals.

Some of the children were kept at the adjoining St. Edward's parochial school until their parents arrived for them.

The marriage of Miss Anna Cecilia DiFabio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. DiFabio, Silver Spring, Md., to Gerald Raphael Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Smith, New Oxford, took place at St. Bernadette's Church, Silver Spring, October 17 at 11:30 a.m. The Rev. Jerome Loftus, celebrant at the Mass, conducted the double-ring ceremony.

Burnell F. Smith, Chambersburg, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Robert D. Smith, New Oxford; Vincent DiFabio, Silver Spring, and Milton Marrone, Yorkers, N. Y. Yolanda DiFabio, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

The couple reside at College Park, Md., where the bride is a student at the University of Maryland. The bridegroom is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School and received the Bachelor of Science degree from Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. He spent two years at the University of Maryland Graduate School working toward a master's degree in chemistry. He is employed by the U. S. Government as a research chemist at the Bureau of Mines, College Park.

CONVICTION OVERTURNED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court overturned today conviction of Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of New Orleans, La., on a charge of defaming eight Criminal District Court judges of that city.

Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, and Arthur J. Goldberg wrote concurring opinions.

Garrison's conviction developed from a quarrel with the judges when, in October 1962, they froze funds he said he needed for a vice investigation in the French quarter of New Orleans.

He told newsmen the judges' action raised "interesting questions about racketeer influences."

Special Judge William Ponder of Many, La., fined Garrison $1,000 and the Louisiana Supreme Court upheld the conviction.

The Los Angeles Times Syndicate introduced the Arizona senator as a columnist in 1960. Once again it will distribute the three-times-a-week column, according to an announcement in Los Angeles by Goldwater and Times publisher Otis Chandler.

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) —John Nance Garner, vice president during the first and second terms of Franklin D. Roosevelt, has turned 85.

DAMAGE SUIT IS SETTLED BY COURT OK

The Adams County court Saturday approved settlement, for $1,544.64, of the trespass action brought by Thomas E. Brines, Emmitsburg R. D., administrator of the estate of Stuard David Brines, against David Lingg, Emmitsburg.

The suit arose from an accident May 30 when a car operated by Lingg on the old Emmitsburg Rd. struck Stuard David Brines as he was riding a bicycle, and fatally injured the youth.

Approval of the divorce of Mary M. (Tawney) Culp, Harrisburg, from Donald J. Culp, 211 S. Washington St., was given by the court. The order noted that the testimony was insufficient to establish cruelty as a grounds, but the "evidence clearly established indignities to person and the decree is entered on those grounds."

OTHER DIVORCES

The court handed down an order permitting Robert T. Group, Aspers R. 1, to amend the complaint in his divorce action against Janet E. Group, Norris-town. According to the order, the testimony in the case was sufficient to entitle Robert Group to a divorce but the complaint had failed to state the length of time both had been residents of Pennsylvania and as a result the decree could not be handed down until the complaint was amended.

The court granted a divorce to Elizabeth A. Haugh, Abbotstown, from Thomas M. Haugh, Abbotstown, on grounds of indignities to the person. The court handed down an opinion with the decree holding that "it has been difficult to determine what facts are proved under the testimony in this case," and also noting "the parties conduct a hotel business jointly and are constantly in the presence of each other. This has resulted in numerous arguments over policies and the general conduct of the business. This friction may be considered nothing more than incompatibility which is not the same as indignities."

The court issued a rule on Nevin C. Bush, Gettysburg, to show why his request for a complaint should not be stricken in the trespass action brought by Audrie M. R. Amann, Gettysburg R. D., for Annette Amann Kennedy against Bush. The matter pertains to an accident October 9, 1962, in which the minor, Annette Amann Kennedy, was injured. The papers filed with the court held that a motion for re-fault judgment was currently before the U.S. Middle District court in the matter.

Biglerville Man Is Charged Here

Richard William Bittinger, York St., Biglerville, Saturday was charged by Cumberland Twp. Policeman Bernard V. Miller Sr. before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with throwing bottles from a car in Gettysburg.

On duty for Gettysburg under an arrangement with Cumberland Twp., Officer Miller Friday night checked a car occupied by a number of young men and women and found part of a case of beer there. Some empty bottles were in the car and "just in case," Miller, unnoticed by the occupants, placed a mark on several of the bottles.

Later that night the officer found a number of bottles dumped in an alley and found the mark he had placed on the bottles. Confronted with the evidence of the marked bottles, Bittinger entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine and costs to the justice.

"SATISFACTION RARE"

Satisfaction comes from living righteously day after day . . . being thankful for the small things . . . that may chance to come our way . . . comfort comes from being honest . . . showing faith in all mankind . . . searching only for the good things . . . that bring joy and peace of mind . . . real contentment is derived from . . . any job that is well done . . . though the task be long and weary . . . honest labor can be fun . . . little children bring fulfillment . . . of the dreams for which we thirst . . . if we place ourselves a second . . . and regard our children first . . . these are keys to being happy . . . use them well and detour care . . . they fit doors of untold pleasure . . . and a satisfaction rare.

Engelke, Mrs. Michael Carney and Miss Roberta Getch, all from New Jersey. They wore dresses styled similar to that of the matron of honor in gold velvet and carried cascades of yellow sweetheart roses and bronze pompons with ivy.

Dr. James Miles, Philadelphia, served as best man and the ushers were Alec Poss, Buckhannon; Roger Engelke and George L. Engelke Jr., Englewood, N.J.

The bride's mother wore a street-length gown of Mappalaise in Capri blue with matching accessories and three white gardenias. The groom's mother wore a dress of winter white raw silk with black accessories and two lime green cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Lamp Post Tea Room.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a double-breasted Italian knit suit of bright Sicilian green with black accessories. They will reside at 64½ W. Main St. in Buckhannon.

The bride graduated from Teaneck High School, Teaneck, N.J., and West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon. The groom is a graduate of Buckhannon-Upshur High School, spent four years in the U.S. Navy and is now in his Senior year at West Virginia Wesleyan College where he is majoring in physics and mathematics.

Out-of-town guests were present from West Virginia, New Jersey, New York, Maryland and Virginia.

HONOR MEMORY

tion had suffered similarly only 100 years before. And as the nation thought of Abraham Lincoln it remembered the world that had been spoken at that great man's death. For John Fitzgerald Kennedy they repeated those words: "Now he belongs to the ages."

"Both Lincoln and Kennedy fought bravely and nobly to defend the right of the oppressed minorities. Both risked all to insure that every American has equal rights and opportunities. Both looked to the future with courage tempered by wisdom. Both captured the imagination and admiring loyalty of contemporaries."

HOLD MILITARY MASS

"John Kennedy was remarkably unique. He had a favorite word which perhaps best describes this characteristic. The word is 'vigor.' His life was short, but he lived it with an enthusiasm and spirit that made his brief life one of honor, admiration, accomplishment and happiness."

"This is a young nation and we are a young people but too often we have acted like an old tired nation. John Kennedy restored youth to the spirit of a country. The frontier spirit of facing any obstacle, looking ahead with enthusiasm, being confident of a better tomorrow is once again the American spirit. Our pioneer forefathers knew this spirit, but somehow prosperity and wealth at times concealed this frontier attitude. John Kennedy with his love of life, optimism and vigor reminded America of its heritage."

Brief talks were given at the breakfast held in the CWF home in Borneauville by Joseph Clabaugh, mayor of Borneauville, and Raymond Weishaar, commander of the CWF post. Rev. Fr. Louis J. Forgeng gave the opening and closing prayer. G. Henry Roth was toastmaster.

The breakfast followed a Military Mass in St. Joseph's Catholic Church sung by Father Forgeng at which Eugene Weishaar was in charge of the CWF choir guard and Edward Hughes was the bugler.

SAY PLANE HIT TRUCK

TWA said the plane hit a truck used for laying tar. The truck was rolled over.

TWA said its employees aboard the plane were making vacation trips or were on their way to stations of service. Nineteen of these boarded the plane at Rome.

Flight operations at the airport were halted. Outgoing flights were delayed indefinitely. Incoming flights were shifted to Ciampino Airport, Rome's. The plane was a Boeing 707-320 intercontinental, one of 59 owned by the airline. It can carry 189 passengers.

An employee working in an office less than 200 yards from the plane said:

"I rushed to the window as soon as I heard the blast. The explosion was like a bomb. 'The plane poised for a moment with its tail high in the air, then it fell flat and explosions continued to blast the plane to pieces.'"

The crash took place at the end of the runway, just before a small pine woods which separates the air field from the sea.

It was the first major accident at Fiumicino since it opened in 1960.

The air field is the same one at which a bizarre spy case broke last Tuesday night when U.A.R. diplomats tried to ship a man in a trunk on another Cairo-bound plane. Cries from the victim alerted customs guards and foiled the effort.

Sgt. William Olson Serves In Viet Nam

Staff Sergeant William G. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Olson, of 224 E. Middle St., is now on duty with a unit of the U.S. Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) in Viet Nam.

Sergeant Olson is an aircraft navigation equipment repairman and is helping provide essential support and services for USAF personnel who are training and assisting the Vietnamese in their fight against Communist aggression. PACAF is responsible for the training mission and for providing air power to defend the U.S. and its allies in the Pacific and Far East areas.

The sergeant, who attended Gettysburg High School, is married to the former Mary I. Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eules Reese, of 602 E. Rose St., Blytheville, Ark.

FLAGS PRESENTED

Services connected with the anniversary observance were largely attended Sunday. Prof. Francis Reinberger of the Lutheran Seminary faculty spoke at the morning worship service on "The Mission of the Church." Sanctuary flags, given by Mrs. Ralph W. Baker, were dedicated in memory of the late Rev. Ralph Baker, a former pastor of the church. Mrs. Baker attended the service.

Two hundred four persons attended the noon dinner at the church with Mrs. Samuel Musselman in charge of a large staff of women in the kitchen. The Luther League, led by Mr. and Mrs. James Kittinger, advisers, and their president, Gary Spence, served the coffee.

Many visited the parsonage during an afternoon "open house" and at the evening fellowship service there was a hymn sing and greetings were received from former field workers. The Cherub Choir sang four anthems with solos by Robin Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robin Scott, and Missy and Kevin Taylor, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor.

After the evening service a large cake made in the form of a replica of Zion Church, complete with bell tower, made by Mrs. Samuel Musselman, was cut and served. The cake, which included stained glass windows, was about 18 inches high and measured about two feet at the base.

"Operation Snow Call" Is Ready

Close coordination between the state highways superintendent and Adams County public school administrators is expected to expedite reports of extreme weather conditions which may cancel school operation this winter.

M. Francis Coulson, county superintendent, has informed school administrators that Charles N. Lightner, highways superintendent, will relay road condition reports to principals and supervisors who will decide whether this area schools will be closed for an emergency. The administrators will have the individual responsibility of contacting radio stations for public announcements.

Confidential call codes have been established by area radio and television stations to avoid calls from unauthorized sources, Coulson reported.

Termed "Operation Snow Call 64-65," the schedule lists all school administrators in the county and the Adams County Day Care Center. Radio and television stations include WGET, WHP, WHVR, WGAL, WSBA and WITF, the educational television station in Hershey.

Rebels Stay Execution Of Dr. Carlson For Today

By KENNETH WHITING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Rebel leader Christophe Gbenye has stayed the execution of American medical missionary Dr. Paul Carlson again but he says the stay will end today.

Central government troops led by white mercenaries resumed their advance on rebel Stanleyville. They captured the town of Lubutu, about 120 miles southeast of the rebel capital.

In a Stanleyville radio broadcast heard in the Central African Republic, Gbenye added: "We expect results of the first negotiations before 24 hours." Gbenye was speaking of talks in Kenya on the fate of Dr. Carlson and about 1,000 white hostages held by his forces.

A good road links Lubutu with Stanleyville, and the attack force expected to encounter little opposition.

"Under normal circumstances you can reach Stanleyville from Lubutu in four or five hours driving," a military source in Leopoldville said.

PREDICT FALL

Observers predicted Stanleyville would fall this week unless the commando units run into unexpected resistance. Rebel Foreign Minister Thomas Kanza arrived in Nairobi Sunday for talks with Kenya Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta on the fate of 1,000 white hostages in rebel territory. They include 60 Americans and more than 600 Belgians.

Kenyatta told newsmen after Sunday's talks that Kanza told him: "All foreign civilian prisoners of war are safe."

The rebel broadcast said: "Kenyatta has asked that the execution of Major Paul Carlson be stayed in order to permit negotiations, and out of respect for Africa we agreed."

DELAY ONE WEEK

The rebels have charged that Carlson is a U.S. major captured in combat. The 36-year-old missionary from Rolling Hills, Calif., was sentenced to die last Monday on spy charges, but rebel leader Christophe Gbenye postponed execution for one week pending negotiations.

Gbenye said in a broadcast Sunday that he was willing to continue negotiations. This seemed to indicate that he might again defer Carlson's execution.

The United States has denied that Carlson is a military man or an agent. It joined Belgium over the weekend in asking U.N. members to press the rebels to free all foreigners.

Both countries submitted letters informing the Security Council that the lives of the hostages were in danger and that the two governments had taken steps to evacuate them if necessary.

READY FOR RESCUE

About 500 Belgian paratroopers have been flown by U.S. planes to the British island of Ascension, six hours flying time from Stanleyville, in preparation for any needed rescue operation.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The funeral of Elias Sheads and Jacob Sheads, sons of Mr. Elias Sheads of this place, took place on Sabbath afternoon last. They were buried with the honors of war, under the direction of Capt. Adair in Evergreen Cemetery. Elias was connected with Company F, 87th Regiment Pa., and Jacob was a member of Company B, 21st Pa. Cavalry.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Gettysburg on Wednesday last it was resolved to change the Bank to a National institution. Some other name will, of course, be taken but still the old Bank will be there. The old officers still continue. The Bank of Chambersburg has been changed to a National institution as well as most of the principal Banks of the state.

Illumination At Emmittsburg!
There will be an Illumination and Jollification in Emmittsburg on Friday evening next. Several speakers will be present and a handsome affair may be expected. The noble Union men of Maryland have, eminently, a right to rejoice over the regeneration of their State, as well as the secured possession of the Government by a true and patriotic party.

The Celebration On Saturday

Last: The demonstration of Saturday in honor of the re-election of Abraham Lincoln as President was the largest and most imposing witnessed in Gettysburg for the last twenty years. On no political occasion within that period have we seen as many people in the town. It overflowed with the gallant Union men of this County, of York and of the neighboring counties of Maryland. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, at an early hour on Saturday, representations from various townships began to assemble, forming a huge procession of men on horseback, in buggies, in wagons and in every imaginable conveyance. The ladies were out in large numbers, gracing the occasion with their smiles and songs. One of the beautiful features of the procession was a carriage filled with most interesting young ladies all dressed in virgin white, numbering 22, each bearing a banner to correspond with the number of States that threw their votes to Mr. Lincoln. Their sweet voices added much to the scene and gave an ecstacy to the affair which will be ever spoken of. The procession was formed under the control of Col. C. H. Buehler, Chief Marshal; with Lieut. Col. Fahnestock, T. D. Carson, Lieut. T. Norris, John M. Swan, Charles Boyer and George Frey as Assistants. A friend who took the trouble to recount, reports to us that there were in it 34 wagons, 287 buggies, 394 horsemen, 1,600 horses and 3,468 persons. Thousands of persons did not join the procession yet it was the largest ever seen in the Borough. After going through the town the procession was dismissed and about three o'clock the crowd gathered in front of the courthouse where they were addressed by Gen. Wm. H. Koontz, Congressman elect from this district. He made a stirring and effective speech. He was followed by our talented townsman, Hon. Edward McPherson, in his usual energetic and effective manner. The illumination in the evening was brilliant and the Torch-Light Procession fitly closed the glorious exercises of the day. Most of the houses of our Union citizens were handsomely orna-

THE HIGH PLACES OF THOUGHT

We know so little of the human mind, but this we do know, that the higher we soar in our thinking and aspirations, the healthier and happier we become. And to make this a habit of our lives is to tread upon solid and substantial ground.

Swinburne said of William Blake: "This man had never lived in the low places of thought." He looked upon the arts, poetry, painting and music, as one with Christianity, powers in man of conversing with Paradise."

All great poetry is inspirational, as are all great art and music. Something of the soul is endowed in each. Each is a stimulant to the high places of thought. No lover of any, or all, can possible stay for long in "the low places of thought."

Unconsciously will one be uplifted continually to new heights of thought.

High hopes are the result of high thinking. I am a believer in endowment for poets, artists, and musicians by the government, for it is an investment for a nation to keep such artists unworried while uplifting the thoughts of its peoples. The Lord would bless such a nation — richly!

It's mean thoughts that lower and degrade a nation, in the same manner as with individuals. The higher the thought of a human being the greater becomes his aspiration, and therefore his happiness and usefulness.

Said MacNeile Dixon: "All finite things have their roots in the infinite and if you wish to understand life at all, you cannot tear out its context. And that context, astounding even to bodily eyes, is the heaven of stars and the incredible procession of the great galaxies."

There is a beauty and aloofness to all great art. It is the manna from heaven that is furnished to all who aspire above the sordid and material. How we revere our great masters, whose works grow in lustre with the years. Never will they die! There they remain, like the stars in the heavens — notes of the eternal.

During the past week our community has lost by death three well-known and estimable ladies. Mrs. Ann M. Faber, wife of Mr. Samuel Faber, cigar manufacturer; and Mrs. Sarah J. Schick, wife of Mr. J. Lawrence Schick, after a protracted and painful illness died on Thursday. Both ladies were active in every good work and word and will be greatly missed in family, social and church circles. On Sunday morning after a brief illness, Mrs. Ann M. Arnold, widow of the late George Arnold, Esq., passed peacefully away. She was a lady of the old school and lived a quiet and domestic life, esteemed and beloved by a large circle of friends.

Scott Morrison has just completed a large wagon shed with corn cribs attached, on his farm near town. . . . Public spirited citizens are gratified to learn of the favor shown and of the reliability ascribed to our nurserymen. We learn from reputable outside parties who have been patronizing our tree men in this community that for surety in final results, that is, when lots of trees are set out in orchard each lot develops its fruit in accordance with the original description and labels — that for correctness and systematic grouping, our tree men are distinguished above others in Jersey, New York and elsewhere. This is highly creditable.

HOW TO FEEL BETTER

Want to feel better? I'll give you the way:
That task you've neglected, get at it today!
That letter unwritten, that visit unpaid,
That failure to keep to a promise you made;
Get at them this minute and clear off your mind
And very much better you'll feel you will find.

Want to feel better? I'll tell you just how
You can sit back in comfort a few hours from now
And glow with contentment and genuine pride,
Get rid of those duties which you've shoved aside.
Just clear off the desk of your mind once again
And you'll walk with the step of all light-hearted men.

Want to feel better? Go out of your way
To some one who's lonely, and do it today!
Forget the excuses so easy to find,
Get your heart lighter and clear off your mind.
Get free from regret which a death might reveal
And you'll be surprised how much better you'll feel.

FORD WORKERS RETURN TO JOBS AS STRIKES END

DETROIT (AP) — With the last of its local strikers settled, Ford Motor Co. planned to begin turning out automobiles again today.

The first of 80,000 laid off or to assembly plants and manufacturing units as Ford prepared to rejoin the production race on 1965 model cars.

Ford, crippled since November 6 because of what it called parts shortages resulting from United Auto Workers Union walkouts, had lost production ground to its rivals, General Motors and Chrysler.

In what the company called the cumulative effect of the parts shortage, the last assembly line had closed down Friday night.

PLANT SETTLEMENTS

The strike at a key parts plant in Sterling Township, Mich., was disposed of Sunday. Strikers at the 6,500-man plant ratified an agreement reached earlier.

Settlements also were announced at the two Wayne, Mich., assembly plants — last of the nine which went on strike. Their 3,000 employees were called to ratification meetings today.

All nine local plant strikes had been over local settlements to supplement the national Ford-UAW agreement of September 18.

Over the weekend the company sent recall-to-job telegrams to thousands of workers over the country.

FULL SCALE NOV. 30

Company officials said full production and complete recall of all 80,000 men likely would not be possible before November 30.

The big stamping plant at Chicago Heights, Ill., reopened Sunday night.

By authoritative estimates Ford lost 70,000 units of passenger car production during the strikes. Ford's normal capacity is about 10,000 cars a day.

Ward's Automotive Reports, industry statistical agency, said Ford made only 2.9 per cent of the industry's cars last week as against General Motors' 67.4 per cent and Chrysler's 22 per cent. American Motors, smallest of the four carmakers, was credited with the rest.

A final march on a raw, foggy day, Nov. 2, 1955, brought Lewis and Clark to their goal. "Ocean in view!" wrote Clark. "O! the joy."

IRON CURTAIN TRIBUTES

There were even a few remembrance services behind the Iron Curtain.

The Warsaw popular daily Zycie Warszawy published a tribute to Kennedy.

In Moscow, the Soviet Communist party paper Pravda praised the late president as a man of peace, and urged President Johnson "to develop the realistic tendencies which were planned in the Kennedy years."

In Washington, more than 30,000 Americans, their lines black against the Virginia hills, climbed the long slopes to the eternal flame that burns above Kennedy's grave.

THOUSANDS AT GRAVE

There were young adults and old, babies in carriages and aged in wheelchairs.

President Johnson's daughters, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines, each brought a long-stemmed yellow rose to place beside the wildflowers the widow had sent. There was a wreath from the President.

In Los Angeles, a torch was lit at the Memorial Coliseum to burn from the time on the clock when he was shot until sunset.

Children of five ethnic backgrounds — Caucasian, Negro, Chinese, Spanish and Seminole Indian — placed wreaths at the foot of Miami's Torch of Friendship in Bayfront Park.

REMEMBER TIPPETT

In Dallas, two uniformed policemen solemnly placed a wreath of red roses on the grave of Patrolman J. D. Tippett, slain by Lee Harvey Oswald, the president's assassin.

After the 15-minute ceremony, Mrs. Tippett walked to a police squad car, sat alone and wept.

3 MURDERERS, 4 OTHERS FLEE PENITENTIARY

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Seven convicts, including three convicted murderers, crawled to freedom through a tunnel Sunday night from their maximum security cell block at the Washington State Penitentiary.

The Washington State Patrol and Oregon State Police set up roadblocks for the seven, all veterans of previous jailbreaks.

Harold Schoesler, a correctional officer at the prison, said the men had dug through a cement floor in the cell block and tunneled about 40 feet to a point outside.

Warden Bob Rhay said homemade shovels were found in the tunnel.

"The men were not armed when they left, unless possibly they had homemade knives," Schoesler said. "They would have no firearms at any rate. Apparently they left on foot."

The tunnel was discovered between 9:30 and 10 p.m. The men had last been seen at dinner about 6 p.m.

The men were identified as Vertis James Barrett, 35, Arthur St. Peter, 39, Neil C. Walen, 28, John L. Mullenix, 33, Harold Thomas, 38, Donald Maseros, 23, and Richard Eugene Loux, 26.

NEW YORK (AP)—Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno was honored Sunday when he received the first John F. Kennedy Memorial Citation from the Citizens Forum of New York State. It was awarded for "outstanding promotion of intergroup relations."

Plight Of Some U.S. Legislators Cited In Plans For 'Great Society'

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — In all the talk about ending poverty, building the "Great Society" and so on, one element of the population is being overlooked. These forgotten people — who really need succor — are our state legislators.

Squalid is the only word to describe the conditions they subsist in. Miserable pay. Sometimes no office to work in. A man has to read his mail standing up in a corridor. And he can't even think, he's so busy warding off the hordes of lobbyists that beset him.

TAKE NEW HAMPSHIRE
Take New Hampshire. This state has the third-largest parliament in the English-speaking world — 424 members. England's Parliament is the biggest and the U.S. Congress second.

Do you know what the New Hampshire legislators are paid? The laughable sum of $100 a year. It is true they don't work anywhere near full time on the job, but you can easily consume $100 in cigars in smoke-filled rooms these days.

Or take Connecticut. Some of the solons there, when called upon to transact the state's business, have applied for and got unemployment compensation. The legislators' pay in Connecticut was, until two years ago, $300 a year, but now has been raised to $2,500 for a two-year term.

HOPE FOR NEW ROLE
This subject is to the forefront now because of a tremendous, fundamental revolution going on in American politics. The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled, with finality, that state legislatures, mostly controlled up to now by rural elements, must be apportioned according to population — "one man, one vote."

The hopes of the backers of this great change are that the states now will resume the role the Founding Fathers envisioned for them — a powerful role in which they would solve their own problems without running to the federal government for help. Such problems as mass transportation in the cities, remedies for urban blight, for poor educational systems, and so on.

The Johnson administration is thinking of turning over to the states billions of dollars in federal taxes. But what will happen to this money in the states where legislatures, meeting for only short terms, have no adequate committee systems or staffs to plan programs, no really sure-fire safeguards against outright thievery?

As Charles S. Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Association, sees it, the times demand a thorough-going reform of state legislatures.

Rhyne argued for the city folks and the suburbanites in the historic, break-through Supreme Court case which resulted in the "one-man, one-vote" ruling.

MEN OF CHARACTER
Rhyne says the states must offer salaries adequate to attract good people to the legislatures, and must give them modern tools to work with.

Men of character are needed, he believes, to withstand the importunities of special interests. Rhyne made a study of Connecticut, not because it's the nation's horrible example, but because he was due to make a speech in Hartford.

"More lobbyists registered to promote or defeat legislation in the last session of the General Assembly than there were legislators!" he said. "There were 330 lobbyists as compared with at least 380 known lobbyists."

Ambassador To Jakarta To Quit

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones said today he will resign soon to become chancellor of the Center of Cultural and Technical Interchange at the University of Hawaii.

Jones, a veteran of 14 years in the diplomatic service in Asia, said he had not yet submitted his resignation to President Johnson but that he had informed Indonesian President Sukarno of his intention to leave.

MUCH OF TV DEVOTED TO JFK EVENTS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Special commemorative programs on the first anniversary of John F. Kennedy's death were important segments in all network television schedules Sunday. Without exception, they were put together with reverent hands.

NBC's memoir, "John F. Kennedy Remembered," was a thoughtful, slow-moving and impressive hour. At the outset, the narrator invited us to return along the route that carried the assassinated president from the Capitol building to Arlington Cemetery a year ago.

As the camera moved slowly along empty city streets to the recorded sounds of the muffled drums in the Kennedy funeral cortege, it paused at places where Kennedy had spoken and, once again, we heard him speak—mostly informally.

MORE PERSONAL PORTRAIT
The camera work, much of it made at night with infrared film, was magnificent. So was the portrait of the thoughtful, civilized man that emerged.

At the same hour, ABC presented an infinitely more personal, informal portrait of John F. Kennedy.

A number of people who knew him well — from a primary school teacher to White House associates — sat before microphone and camera and reminisced about the Kennedy they had known. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor was so affected by his recollections that he wept openly before the cameras.

MOST REWARDING

As they talked, motion picture and still photographs were showing an active man who loved the outdoors, the sea, his children and enjoyed life.

The unpretentious ABC approach seemed to this viewer the most rewarding for it showed the qualities — wit, style and grace — that gave his short administration its special luster, especially in retrospect. CBS, which had a memorial hour earlier, devoted a morning hour to excerpts from a summary of events a year ago that carried the president from Dallas to Arlington in four days.

Recommended tonight: "Slattery's People," CBS, 10-11, EST, a drama involving a corrupt lobbyist.

Artist Forgives Studio Vandals

CHADDS FORD, Pa. (AP) — "This is the way I have chosen to try and make some good come out of this unfortunate incident," said artist Andrew Wyeth as he announced he would forgive vandals who damaged his studio last Oct. 31, if they "come to me personally and make restitution according to their conscience and ability to pay; give solid evidence that they understand the personal harm in their act and would never repeat it. Any who do not fulfill these to me will be prosecuted."

Wyeth said state police had told him they have the names of about 20 of a gang of some 50 youths who sacked his studio, smashing and damaging art works. Wyeth said eight had visited him Saturday to apologize, pleading their lives "lacked excitement and real things to do."

Police said the shot was fired by patrolman George Kennedy, who was shooting at the youth's legs, trying to halt him. Two other youths were arrested, but one got away. The one who was held was identified as Fred Mole, 16.

Police said the fatal wounding Saturday night followed the theft of a purse belonging to Doris Hallman, 31, as she was boarding a bus.

Last Tuesday a patrolman fatally wounded Leonard Young, 15, in an attempt to rob a drug store.

POLICE KILL TEEN-AGE BOY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Philadelphia policeman has shot and killed a teen-ager during a holdup attempt, the second time in less than a week that city police have killed a youngster in the line of duty.

The latest victim was Harold E. Thomas, 18, shot while fleeing from police after his arrest in a purse snatch investigation. Police said the shot was fired by patrolman George Kennedy, who was shooting at the youth's legs, trying to halt him. Two other youths were arrested, but one got away. The one who was held was identified as Fred Mole, 16.

WEEKDAY SUPPER

A New Jersey cook created this nutritious, well-liked salad. Green Beans Bread Tray Peggy Hall's Wheat Germ Salad Cookies Beverage

PEGGY HALL'S WHEAT GERM SALAD
4 or 5 medium carrots
¼ cup wheat germ
¼ cup raisins, rinsed in hot water and drained
Mayonnaise and salad greens
Pare carrots; grate medium fine. Mix with wheat germ, raisins and enough mayonnaise to hold together. Serve on salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

THANKSGIVING DINNER
A creamy sauce that's just right with steamed pudding. Mushroom Soup Celery and Olives with Link Sausages Stuffing and Gravy Colcannon Green Peas Steamed Pudding
KLUFFY SAUCE
1 large egg, separated
¼ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup confectioners sugar
¼ cup cream

Beat the egg white until it forms soft peaks; gradually beat in the sugar. Without washing the egg beater, beat egg yolk and vanilla until thickened and lemon color; add to egg white mixture and beat gently to blend. With the clean beater, beat cream until stiff; fold in gently but quickly. Serve at once. Makes about 2 cups.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

STEADY AS YOU GO. Viewed from the rear, the combination of short skirts, high heels and wobbling ankles is a sad sight. It is too bad that a girl with weak ankles can't see herself passing by. She would be Beat egg yolks with 2 table-spoons of the milk; add to corn-starch mixture, mixing well; heat remaining milk and gradually stir in, mixing well. Cook and stir constantly over hot water or very low heat until mixture coats a metal spoon; stir in nutmeg; cool. Split cake layers; place one slice in the bottom of a 2-quart casserole; cover with cool custard; repeat, using remaining sponge cake and custard; have custard as top layer. Let stand so custard will soak into cake — about 1 hour. Spread with meringue; bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until meringue browns — 30 minutes. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

For meringue: Beat 3 large egg whites with ½ teaspoon vanilla and ¼ teaspoon salt until they form soft peaks; gradually beat in 6 tablespoons sugar, continuing to beat if necessary until stiff.

quick to remedy the situation. A wobble ruins the look of the legs, even good legs. Of course there is no grace in it. More serious still is the fact that the teetering action can lead to painful strain in the muscles of the feet, legs and back.

So, my lovelies, you would be wise to check the performance of your ankles. There are two sure checks. If your heels wear down quickly on the inside edges and your stockings get smudged at the inner sides of the ankle bones—you're a wobbler.

Remedial measures follow: 1. Give your feet and ankles a more balanced support by wearing daytime shoes with sturdy heels, a snug counter and firm arch construction. The stout midheels, now in fashion, would go a long way to keep your ankles steady.

2. Reserve delicate shoes with slender heels for dress occasions. And so that your ankles stand straight, give them the support of a small rubber cushion. Placed on the inside of a shoe's arch, such cushions hold the ankles on an even keel.

3. When walking try to roll your weight through the center of your feet. You can soon do it without thinking. If you walk barefoot around your room each day on the outside edges of your feet.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS

If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, LEGLINE TRIMMERS, which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles or for contouring your entire legline. N. Y. CATHOLIC CHURCH USES NEW SERVICE

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A layman in a dark business suit stood facing the Roman Catholic congregation, and read from the Scriptures, "Brethren ... may you walk worthily ... browning in the knowledge of God."

The setting was an image of things to come next Sunday in Catholic parishes throughout the country — a new mode of active communal worship with about half of the Mass being said in English.

In the forerunner here, the people rose after reading of the Epistle and in unison intoned a psalm in English instead of the priest alone doing it in Latin.

"Out of the depths I cry to you, Lord, O Lord, hearken to my voice! Alleluia."

FORERUNNER OF CHANGES

Then following more Scripture came another unfamiliar experience — hymn singing. "Now thank we all our God with hearts and hands and voices ..."

The service, at Manhattan's Corpus Christi Church Sunday foretold some of the sweeping changes to be inaugurated a week hence in the nation's approximately 17,500 Roman Catholic parishes.

They change then to a new liturgy, much of it for the first time in the people's language rather than Latin, and the congregations join actively in prayers, responses, litanies and song.

AUTHORIZED LAST YEAR

Authorized by the Vatican Council in Rome last year and set in motion in this country by the American bishops, the reforms are considered among the most significant and widespread in impact in the Church's history.

They will make for heightened resemblances between Catholic and Protestant worship.

Aimed at transforming the generally silent Catholic congregations into vigorous and vocal participants, the changes assign to them many overt functions heretofore reserved only to the clergy.

DIFFICULT TO CHANGE

"It's going to be very difficult for many people to change their habits," said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Arthur A. Campbell, pastor of Corpus Christi. "A lot of them have been mostly spectators all their lives."

But the new approach, he added, means "they'll cease to be mere viewers and be genuine participants."

Across the country, thousands of parishes have had special sermons, lectures, discussions and demonstrations, seeking to ready members for the dramatic transition.

Reds Report Sea Monster

MOSCOW (AP) — A sea-going monster with a long tail has been spotted in remote Siberia, the Soviet government news agency Tass said today. Geologists had seen the "huge animal" twice at Lake Haiyr near Laptevskir sea in a region called Yakutia, the agency said.

The animal had a small head, a long, gleaming neck, jet-black skin and a vertical fin on its back, Tass said.

Tass said geologists on a Moscow University expedition to the region had seen the animal on shore and in the water, but because they had no camera, they made drawings of the creature.

Komsomolskaya Pravda, a Soviet publication, printed drawings of the reported beast today.

The Indian Ocean lies entirely within tropical or southern zones and is enclosed by a land mass at its northern limit.

Holiday Dinner Planned At PSU

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Officials at Pennsylvania State University have planned a candlelight Thanksgiving dinner in the dining halls Thursday night for students who can not get home for the one-day holiday. Classes will be recessed Thursday, but resumed Friday and Saturday, so a majority of the students will have to spend the Thanksgiving on Campus, it was explained.

MOORE RETIRES

HARRISBURG (AP) — S. Edward Moore is retiring after 55 years as parliamentarian in the State House of Representatives.

Moore announced his decision this past weekend, saying his resignation would be effective in January after the House was reorganized for the 1965 session.

W. Stuart Helm, House speaker, called Moore "The best parliamentarian in the history of the Pennsylvania General Assembly."

ANNIVERSARY OF JFK DEATH MARKED IN PA.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In song and in silence, Pennsylvanians paid their respects to the memory of the late President John F. Kennedy, on the first anniversary of his assassination.

The mayors of Pittsburgh and Bethlehem proclaimed it John Fitzgerald Kennedy Commemoration Day.

Pittsburghers observed a moment of silence at 1 p.m., the hour the late president was struck down by an assassin's bullet in Dallas, Tex.

PLACES BOUQUET

The silence was followed by the peal of church bells and a special memorial concert by the Mendelssohn Choir at Carnegie Music Hall.

Mayor James H. J. Tate of Philadelphia placed a bouquet of flowers on the plaque near the entrance to Independence Hall, where the late president delivered a Fourth of July address in 1962. The plaque was dedicated by the city last June.

Now that a year has passed since the shattering tragedy, Tate said, "we can draw a measure of comfort from the fact that the United States, which he loved so well, has now given him a place in its folklore, its legend."

SPECIAL MASS

A special mass was held in many churches in the Commonwealth, including the Holy Ghost Catholic Church in Bethlehem, where Mayor H. Gordon Payrow also had proclaimed it an official mourning day.

Those who did not attend for mal ceremonies recalled the tragic event through newspaper recollections and radio and television memorial programs.

Formally or in the quiet of their own homes, Pennsylvanians expressed their affection, their admiration, their sorrow.

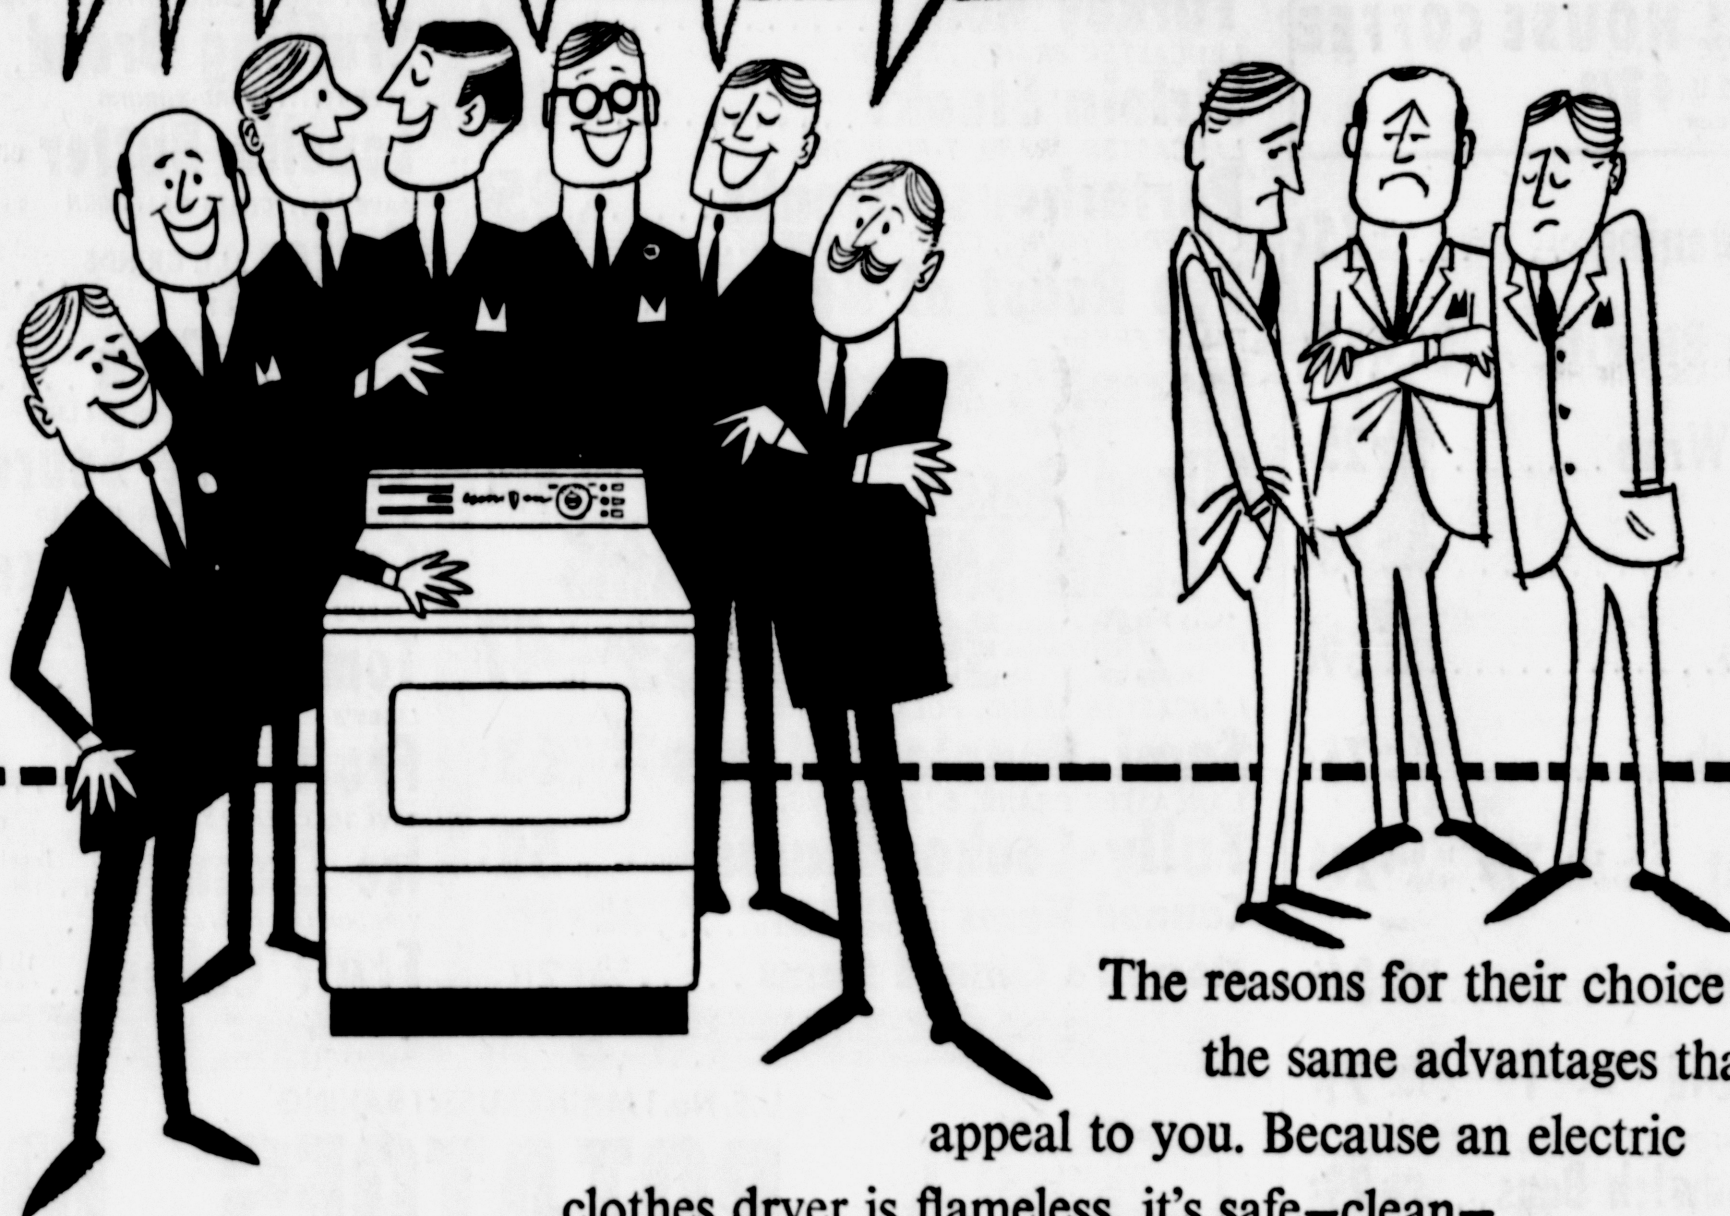

CALL CAUCUS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican state representatives publican state representatives have been called into caucus Dec. 7 in Harrisburg to reorganize their ranks for the 1965 session of the legislature, GOP State Chairman Craig Truax announced over the weekend. The GOP lost control of the chamber to the Democrats in the Nov. 3 election.

Efforts Of Government To Win Over Populace In South Viet Nam Are Not Succeeding

EDITOR'S NOTE—American hopes for a breakthrough in the battle to win South Viet Nam's peasants away from the Communists and over to the government are centered south of Saigon in a key area where the town of Phu My is typical of many. AP Photographer Horst Faas accompanied Vietnamese troops that reoccupied the town in December of 1963 after it had been in the hands of the Communist Viet Cong for some weeks. He revisited the town early this month. Here is his report.

By HORST FAAS

PHY MY, South Viet Nam (AP) — Three government intelligence operatives, dressed in civilian clothes, walked casually through Phu My's pagoda market, brushing past food vendors and trinket stores.

They halted suddenly on seeing three other young men, also in civilian garb, approaching them.

In Phu My, where a military and political battle has been waged all this year between the government and the Communist Viet Cong, young men not in uniform are a rarity.

KNIFE IS DRAWN

Closing in quickly, one of the strangers drew a knife. Another reached deep into his pocket, possibly for a pistol.

The government operatives fled to the nearby river, dived in and swam to a government post. Their assailants were Viet Cong intelligence men probably in Phu My on a mission similar to theirs, one of the government operatives said.

They ran because they were carrying a list of agent's names that had to be kept from the Viet Cong.

TYPICAL INCIDENTS

This incident illustrates the level at which the battle for the allegiance of Phu My's 5,000 people is being waged.

Here in the steamy Mekong River Delta, the plans and strategies formulated by American and Vietnamese authorities in Saigon appear simply — in the digging of a well, the building of more barbed wire fences, and the dispensing of medicine.

The Viet Cong strategy is equally simple at this level — undo all that the government has done.

The Communists got a good start after the collapse of the Diem regime. During November and December 1963, they occupied Phu My and made it over.

PATTERN UNCHANGED

The government reoccupied the area in late December, but the pattern all this year has remained the same.

The more fences erected round paddyfields and hamlets, the more cut barbed wire is left dangling. As more and more civic action cadres troop in from Saigon after courses in public relations, they find frustration because of the efforts of the always persistent Communist cadres.

Phu My was picked as a key area for pacification for several reasons. One was that it lies in a fertile region about 40 miles southeast of Saigon in Dinh tuong Province. Make advances in Phu My, authorities in Saigon argued, and you have set the pattern for much of the delta.

WRECKED SYMBOLS

In their brief occupation, the Communists had shown what they could do. First they wrecked the symbols of the enemy — the church, government offices, the schools, the village bridge and the market place. Then they put up signs. Communist slogans were painted on buildings, propaganda was daubed along market walls. A huge concrete monument was erected.

Viet Cong administrators imposed taxes on houses and rice crops, and gave constant propaganda lectures. A highly organized political structure was created among the villagers.

Finally, the Viet Cong ordered the building of a massive series of earthworks for protection against attack.

But when the government decided to challenge the Communists with a military force in late December, the Viet Cong left without a fight.

This reporter visited Phu My in January, when plans were being made. Many of them have been carried out. Hundreds of trenches dug across the highway leading to Phu My have been filled in and the road is open.

Schools have been repaired, and two bridges rebuilt. The market place has been rebuilt. The government stopped collecting taxes. The Communist monument was altered into a shrine for government dead.

3-FOLD STRATEGY

Government strategy was quite clear in January. There were three main elements:

1 — Build up local administration and services in hopes of making the people eventually feel loyalty to the government.

2 — Build up paramilitary organizations — hamlet militia, self defense corps, civil guard — to appoint strong enough to defend the area with few or no government troops.

3 — Keep the area secure against the Viet Cong by using patrolling troops operating out of defensive posts.

RED TAPE HURTS

Ten months later, only the third point is being carried out with any degree of efficiency. And this not in its entirety, because the idea was to phase the troops out eventually.

Why has progress been virtually nil in Phu My?

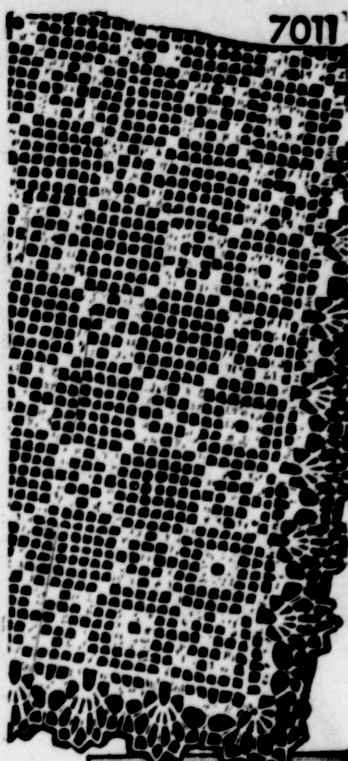

One of the major reasons is that oldtime bungler, plain red tape. The Phu My region has been batted back and forth from various military regions during the year, leading to disruption in the chain of command.

Sometimes the Phu My people just didn't know who their superiors were.

GRAND STRATEGY

The civic-action program is grand in its strategy and concept. Special men and women are recruited in Saigon for this sensitive job of persuading the people that the government is worth supporting.

Only 75 per cent of the number scheduled to operate in Phu My showed up. They eventually terminated their work, having taken a census, photographed everybody, numbered houses and supervised the election of officials for hamlets.

Then they stopped working. The last visible "civic-action" effort by the government is the constant erection of barbed wire fences which the Viet Cong hack down.

NOT GETTING ACROSS

The basic idea of winning the mind of the population just hasn't come across. It may be that the Viet Cong have already won them and that the government is fighting a losing battle.

Attempts to build up village militia forces have failed, mainly because all the able bodied men are either in the government armed forces, fighting with the Viet Cong, or in hiding. Attempts to improve intelligence have not worked, and the population remains as distrustful as ever of the government and unwilling to talk.

There is a feeling in Phu My of being watched. The people watching, the Viet Cong watching. They seem to be waiting for the next development.

Quadriplegic Former Marine Corps Pilot Gets Posthumous Law License After 18 Years

By JAMES E. DWYER
WEST CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — A crippled former Marine Corps pilot was admitted posthumously to the Illinois Bar Thursday, climaxing an 18-year story of courage and patience.

The admission of the late Donald D. Harries Jr. of Duluth, Minn., believed to be the first time a law license was awarded posthumously in Illinois, came a little more than one month after Harries died.

Harries, 43, was a quadriplegic since 1946. While attending law school he wrote papers for 10 years with a pencil clenched between his teeth in a hospital ward.

FELL IN GYM

In 1946, Harries was at the University of Minnesota studying for a law degree. He fell while tumbling in a gymnasium and never again had the use of his arms or legs.

Harries was admitted to Hines Veterans Hospital where for almost seven years, he was

TALK ABOUT RESIDENCE FOR VICE PRES.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once again there is talk of the government providing an official residence for the vice president, just as it provides the White House for the President.

This time the vice presidential mansion talk may become more than just talk. Some interested people are about to come up with recommendations on a specific house.

The final decision will be up to Congress. But Congress, which has turned down some interesting propositions in this century, may be more receptive this time.

LBJ NOT COMMITTED

President Johnson, with his plans for upgrading the vice presidency, will have an important part in deciding what's to be done.

Johnson hasn't announced for establishment of a vice presidential residence, but those backing the idea think he is with them.

For one thing, Johnson is reported to want to pass along to his incoming vice president, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, some of the official entertainment duties required at the top in Washington.

Humphrey's own home here, a comparatively modest house in Chevy Chase, Md., would not begin to meet large entertainment needs.

NIXON SUGGESTION

The vice president-elect has said, moreover, that he doesn't want to leave his home, even though it has had to be "patched and fixed up" just to do for family living.

But he might take the stand Richard M. Nixon, vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, took. Eisenhower said in his 1957 budget message to Congress that the government should provide the vice president with an official home.

Nixon said then he didn't want Congress to give him a home, but he would give unequalled support to providing an official residence for future vice presidents.

SUITABLE ONE AVAILABLE

Right now, one of Washington's finest estates, which has been mentioned as a possible vice presidential residence, is vacant and may again be available.

This is Tregaron, which was the home of the late Ambassador Joseph E. Davies. One of his heirs said Davies had hoped to have the estate used for the vice presidency, but never offered it formally because friends in the Senate said the cost of maintenance would be too high.

When Calvin Coolidge was vice president, he was offered the use of "Henderson's Castle," a fancifully decorated mansion on 16th Street. He turned it down as too costly to run.

There has been some talk of the vice president taking over Blair House, across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House and now used to put up official guests of the nation.

A nuclear factor arises here: It might not be wise to locate the president and vice president so close together.

NEGRO ADMITS RAPE - KILLING OF TWO WOMEN

By DAVID ZIMMAN
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police arrested a paroled Negro and said he has admitted two of the most brutal rape-slayings to shock New Orleans in this decade.

Frank Charles Williams, 22, of New Orleans, was booked Friday night in the killing of Mrs. Lillian Harris, 41.

The mother of two was raped, beaten, and shot through the head in her fashionable uptown home on Nov. 10.

Williams, who had served a prison term for burglary, was also booked in the 1962 knife killing of modeling student Donna Trussell.

Miss Trussell, a striking brunette, was a cousin and former roommate of Lynda Lee Mead, Miss America of 1960.

An assailant slashed and raped Miss Trussell in her second-floor apartment on her 18th birthday. A female cousin arrived during the slaying but fled in terror.

ROME (AP) — More United Arab Republic officials may be expelled from Italy as a result of the man-in-the-trunk spy case, an informed source said Saturday.

Police said Friday night they were searching for two more Egyptians believed implicated in the plot to smuggle an Israeli fugitive out of the country in a trunk marked "Diplomatic Mail." Two U.A.R. diplomats in Rome have already been expelled.

Police rescued the Israeli, Mordecai Ben Masud Louk, prompted the city council to tighten the vagrancy ordinance. Among other things, it now lets police arrest people who loiter or frequent the streets late at night.

CALCUTTA (AP) — Assam's government is moving against followers of a "queen goddess" who are raiding villages in the North Cachar Hills district.

Chief Minister N.P. Chaliha told the state's legislative assembly "queen" Guidellu has sent a 200-man private army on pillaging expeditions into hill settlements.

Face pots of West Africa had a top in the shape of an animal or human being. Often the entire container suggested a full figure. Witch doctors apparently believed they could transfer illnesses from the sick to the face pots.

Part-Time Architect Builds Step-Climbing Wheel Chair

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "I've got a newspaper clipping here," a telephone caller told The Associated Press. "It says the space scientists hope to develop a wheel chair that climbs stairs."

"I thought you might be interested in knowing that I've already built one and my son-in-law rode it up the steps of the courthouse the other day."

The caller was Rod Zamotin, 45, an employee of the jet engine division of Eastern Air Lines, part-time inventor and architect.

Working at home, in two years of spare-time effort, the "hobby" inventor has produced a wheel chair that does climb stairs, and could open a whole new world to the handicapped.

INVENTED SALT SHAKER

With Donald Whitney, Zamotin's son-in-law, riding the chair, it easily mounted the concrete steps of the courthouse.

Zamotin, soft-spoken, New York-born son of a Russian portrait artist, has invented only little things in the past — such as a salt shaker which keeps the salt dry.

Two years ago, he read an appeal to inventors from the Department of Commerce to work on a wheel chair that would climb stairs. He went to work on it.

With his model completed, he applied for a patent. He said he has been advised that it will be granted "because of the novelty of my invention."

Beyond that Zamotin, no marketing expert, didn't know how to go about getting his brainchild to those who needed it. He wrote to a manufacturer of hospital supplies "and they said it was a wonderful thing, but it would involve a lot of tooling up to produce it and they wanted to know how big a market there was for it."

WILL DEMONSTRATE CHAIR

Zamotin has now been put in touch with experts in the handicapped field and has set up a series of demonstrations to prove the need.

"My chair," he said, "can mean that a paraplegic, now a burden to his family and friends, can enjoy independent other spots on the eastern and ence. "With my chair, he can go down the porch steps, cross the street, go to the shopping center, up the steps of the library, or just down to the beach to watch the tide come in."

Zamotin's wheel chair looks much the same as a standard kind, with two big wheels up front and a small one behind. On the flat, the driver operates it like any other, by turning the big wheels.

ASCENDS BACKWARDS

At the foot of a flight of stairs, the driver turns a small device which retracts the rear wheel and lowers a frame with a non-skid belt made of a special rubber composition developed by Zamotin and built by the U.S. Rubber Co.

The belt, molding itself to the stair edges, takes the driver upstairs backward as he turns the two large wheels by hand, just as in traveling on the flat. Zamotin says it can't slip or skid on the stairs.

While the model is hand operated, Zamotin says it could easily be electrified.

The model is much heavier than production chairs would be, but a 72-year-old man testing it out ran it upstairs handily.

LAKE STORMS END, SKY CLEAR

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clearing skies promised relief today to the eastern edge of the Great Lakes region where weekend storms dumped up to three feet of snow. Only flurries were predicted for today.

Dry weather prevailed throughout most of the rest of the nation, except in the Pacific Northwest. Snow continued to accumulate in the mountains there, and rain drenched lower altitudes. Cape Blanco, Ore., had 1 1/2 inches of rain Sunday afternoon and evening.

In the East, 38 inches of snow was reported over the weekend at Tug Hill, N.Y., and as much as two feet of snow piled up in other spots on the eastern and

19 KILLED IN PA. ACCIDENTS OVER WEEKEND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nineteen persons, ranging in age from 13 to 85, lost their lives in traffic accidents in Pennsylvania during this pre-Thanksgiving weekend.

The highway deaths included a Philadelphia couple and their 13-year-old passenger and a 22-year-old Bucks County man killed in a freak accident in which he went through the windshield of his car and was then struck by a falling telephone pole which his car had sheared from its base.

In a non-traffic accident, a 68-year-old woman died from coal gas fumes which filled her Reading home.

LIST OF VICTIMS

The victims included: Philadelphia—Louis Torres, 41, his wife, Olga, 31, and Leonard Wood, 13, all of Philadelphia, killed when their station wagon collided with a car Saturday in North Philadelphia. Mrs. Torres was killed in the crash. Her husband died early Sunday and the Wood boy died Sunday night of injuries suffered in the collision.

Bristol — Walter J. Nowack Jr., 22, of Bristol Township, killed Sunday when his car skidded on the icy highway and hit a utility pole. The falling pole struck Nowack, who had been thrown from the car.

Folsom—Vincent J. Meany, 25, of Folsom, killed Sunday when he lost control of his car while trying to pass another automobile and hit a street sign.

Reading — Mrs. Emily White, 68, of Reading, killed Sunday southern shores of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario. More than 200 motorists were stranded Saturday in western New York and two women were killed there in weather-connected highway accidents.

Southwesterly breezes raised temperatures to near normal in the middle of the United States after two very chilly nights.

Temperatures early this morning ranged from 1 degree above zero at Houlton, Maine, to 75 at Key West and West Palm Beach, Fla.

when coal gas fumes filled her home.

SEAMAN KILLED

Oxford — Alfred D. Brandenburger, of Oxford, killed Sunday morning when his car went out of control, struck the steps of a house and overturned.

Oxford—Richard D. Hess, 18, of Parkersburg, killed Sunday in a one-car crash.

Tyrone—Seaman 1 C. Roy M. Isenberg, 20, killed when his auto hit a bridge support Sunday.

Houtzdale—James D. Stewart, 18, of Smithdale killed Saturday when his car went out of control and overturned.

Chester—William W. Wakumski, 25, Philadelphia, killed Friday night in a two-car collision in Upper Chichester Township.

TRAIN HITS CAR

Chester — James Dalton, 18, Aston Township, killed Friday night when a car in which he was riding struck a pole in Chester Township.

Pittsburgh — Elizabeth Cauten, 22, McDonald R.D. 3, killed early Saturday when her car collided with a truck in nearby Sturgeon.

Souderton—Russell B. Souder, 71, Souderton, killed Saturday when his car was struck by a Reading Railroad passenger train at a grade crossing in nearby Hatfield Township.

GIRL, 15, IS VICTIM

West Chester—Santo Fasone, 28, West Chester, killed early Saturday when his car struck a pole along Route 202, two miles south of West Chester.

Erie—Mrs. Josephine W. Williams, 70, of Meadville, killed Saturday when an auto crashed on an icy street in Cambridge Springs near Erie.

Pittsburgh — John Zihmer, 22, Allison Park, Allegheny County, and Mrs. Dorothy Condron, 24, Fox Chapel, killed Saturday night in a two-car crash in suburban Pittsburgh. Zihmer was traveling alone, Mrs. Condron in a car driven by her husband.

Zellenople — Susan Day, 15, Harmony, Butler County, killed Saturday when car in which she was riding overturned on Route 288 after striking an abutment.

McKeesport — George Popko, 85, Lincoln Borough, killed Saturday night when struck by a car as he walked a road in Elizabeth Township.

In the United States, nearly one million paperback books are sold each day.

Power Rationing May Hit Holiday

FRIDAY - HARBOR, Wash.

(AP) — "The Thanksgiving turkey is probably out the window, unless they use charcoal broilers or something, but otherwise we're getting along fine."

R. E. Hartzog, editor of the Friday Harbor Journal, summed up the situation Sunday as Washington's San Juan Islands faced several weeks of power rationing.

An underwater cable from the mainland broke Thursday night, cutting off the supply of nearly 6,000 power users. The break was tentatively located Saturday. William Frans, Bonneville power administration area manager, said it is impossible to tell how long the repair job will take, but it will be weeks.

Diesel generators are supplying part of the need.

RAIL STRIKE IS AVERTED FOR HOLIDAY

CHICAGO (AP) — Postponement

of a nationwide strike scheduled for 6 a.m. today will allow rail traffic to move as usual this Thanksgiving week, but negotiations between the railroads and three unions will resume next week in Washington.

The three non-operating shop craft unions put off the threatened strike for at least a week Sunday after receiving an urgent request by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Later Sunday, J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, telephoned Judge Joseph Sam Perry of U.S. District Court that the carriers were dropping an injunction petition which sought an order barring the strike.

RESUMED NEXT MONDAY

Both sides accepted Wirtz's suggestion to resume talks in Washington Nov. 30.

The unions, representing 49,000 employees, are the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the Sheet Metal Workers International Association and the International Association of Machinists.

A union spokesman said Wirtz was advised in response to his request for a postponement "that for the first time there is some hope of settlement of our dispute."

Three other shop craft unions signed three-year contracts Saturday, bringing to eight the number of non-operating unions which have negotiated wage and fringe-benefit agreements in the past few days.

OTHER AGREEMENTS

Terms of the contracts, which closely followed the recommendations of a presidential emergency board, provide more than 367,000 workers' of the eight unions with a 27-cent-per-hour wage increase over three years plus improved fringe benefits.

The average pay of workers covered by the eight unions ranges between $2.58 and $2.63 per hour.

Earlier last week, the railroads and two operating unions agreed on new contracts. The settlements covered 28,000

BANK RAISES DISCOUNT RATE TO EASE TRADE

By LOUIS NEVIN

LONDON (AP) — The Bank of England discount rate was raised today from 5 to 7 per cent.

The action was taken to help turn the tide of Britain's trade deficit, which the government says may reach 800 million pounds — $2.25 billion — this year. The higher interest rate will attract foreign money to Britain.

A spokesman for the bank said the change was made "primarily to strengthen the international position of sterling," which has been under severe attack in world currency markets.

The announcement said Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan will make a statement on the raising of the discount rate this afternoon in the House of Commons.

Callaghan's statement, a treasury spokesman said, "does not foreshadow any other measures."

HIGHEST SINCE '61

The rise is the highest since July 25, 1961, when Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd instituted a period of austerity in an effort to halt another payments crisis.

The basic cause of the financial difficulties is that Britain is spending more abroad than she is selling and the deficit is growing.

The new Labor government instituted a 15 per cent surcharge on all imports except food and raw materials earlier this month in an effort to reverse the trend.

This brought the regime into conflict with most of Britain's suppliers, especially her partners in the seven-nation European Free Trade Association — EFTA.

The Bank of England discount rate is the interest rate that borrowers throughout the nation must pay on loans, mortgages and the like.

The first danger sign of weakness of sterling came on Friday when the pound declined to $2.78 1/2, the lowest level in eight years and the floor at which the Bank of England must step in and buy to prevent the pound going lower.

The pound reacted sharply to the raising of the discount rate and rose five-eighths of a cent to $2.78 3/4.

The drop of the pound was a sure sign that foreigners were getting rid of pounds because they feared they would be devalued.

WARRIORS ARE TWICE LOSERS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

There's no place like home — and that's why the San Francisco Warriors are happy to get back on the road.

The Warriors embarked on a three-game road trip today, happily leaving behind the Civic Auditorium court where they have yet to win a National Basketball Association game this season.

Their fifth and sixth straight home court losses were inflicted Saturday and Sunday night by the Cincinnati Royals and Detroit Pistons, respectively.

Detroit edged San Francisco 99-97 Sunday night in the only game played.

The twin defeats negated outstanding scoring performances by Wilt Chamberlain, zeroing in on the league scoring lead once again after missing the first five games of the season.

Chamberlain collected 46 points against Cincinnati Saturday night, but the Royals had five men in double figures and won 111-104.
